INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

The DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund (the "Fund") invests primarily in equity securities of domestic companies that in the Adviser's view possess superior long-term growth characteristics and that have strong, sustainable earnings prospects and reasonably valued stock prices. The Fund may invest in companies that do not have particularly strong earnings histories but do have other attributes that in the Adviser's view may contribute to accelerated growth in the foreseeable future. Under normal market conditions, the Fund's 80% Policy requires it to invest at least 80% of its net assets (plus borrowings for investment purposes) in equity securities of medium-size companies. For these purposes, the Fund's Adviser defines medium-sized companies as those companies with market capitalizations in the range of $914.9 million to $46.8 billion, which was the two-year average of the market capitalization range of companies in the Russell Midcap Growth® Index on December 31, 2016 and 2017. The Fund typically invests in U.S.-listed equity securities, including common stocks, preferred stocks, securities convertible into U.S. common stocks, real estate investment trusts, American Depositary Receipts, and exchange-traded funds.

Investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. The Fund invests in small and medium size companies, which carry greater risk than is customarily associated with larger, more established companies. With non-diversification risk, the Fund will typically invest in securities of fewer issuers, which exposes the Fund to greater market risk. Investing in ADRs (American Depositary Receipt) carries risks of political and financial instability, less liquidity and greater volatility, as well as risks associated with the lack of reliable accounting and financial information. The Fund is also subject to other risks, such as REIT risk with possible real estate market declines, which are detailed in the Fund's prospectus.

The Russell Midcap Growth Index measures the performance of the mid-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity universe. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than original cost.
