The total return of the Fund includes operating expenses that reduce returns, while the Index returns do not include expenses.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

The D.F. Dent Midcap Growth Fund (the "Fund") invests primarily in U.S. exchange-listed equity securities, including common, preferred and convertible stock, real estate investment trusts ("REITs"), American Depository Receipts and exchange-traded funds that the Adviser believes possess superior long-term growth characteristics and have strong, sustainable earnings prospects and reasonably valued stock prices. The Fund may also invest in companies that do not have particularly strong earnings histories but do have other attributes that the Adviser believes may contribute to accelerated growth in the foreseeable future. Under normal market conditions, the Fund invests at least 80% of its net assets (plus borrowings for investment purposes) in equity securities of medium-size companies ("80% Policy"). For these purposes, the Fund's Adviser defines medium-sized companies as those companies that, at the time of purchase, have market capitalizations within the range of companies included in the Russell Midcap Growth Index on a rolling three-year basis. As of September 30, 2025, the minimum and maximum market capitalizations on a rolling three-year basis within the Russell Midcap Growth Index were $304 million and $323 billion, respectively. Following a Fund's investment in a security, it may appreciate or depreciate significantly in value and result in the Fund holding securities with market capitalizations that differ significantly from the time of the Fund's investment.

FUND MANAGEMENT

Investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. The Fund invests in small and medium size companies, which carry greater risk than is customarily associated with larger, more established companies. Investing in ADRs (American Depository Receipt) carries risks of political and financial instability, less liquidity and greater volatility, as well as risks associated with the lack of reliable accounting and financial information. The Fund is also subject to other risks, such as REIT risk with possible real estate market declines, which are detailed in the Fund's prospectus. Geopolitical and similar disruptive events, including pandemics (such as COVID-19), may destabilize various countries' economies and markets, which may experience increased volatility and reduced liquidity.

Russell 2500 Index is a float-adjusted capitalization weighted index of equity securities issued by the approximately 2,500 smallest issues of Russell 3000 Index. The Russell 2500 Index measures the performance of the small to midcapitalization sector of the U.S. equity market, as defined by FTSE Russell. The Russell 2500 Index is a subset of the Russell 3000 Index, which measures the performance of the broad U.S. equity market, as defined by FTSE Russell. The Russell Midcap Growth Index measures the performance of the mid-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity universe. One cannot invest directly in an index. Foreside Fund Services, LLC, Distributor.
